The French period Ville Nouvelle of Casablanca was designed by a French architect and its style is a combination of Hispano-Moorish and Art Deco. This has inspired our new collection featuring white decorative stone with trendy design influences. Merging all of this together, the beauty of natural stone and sought after essential mosaics, create a richness in these must-have stylized beauties.

Distinguished etching and soft colors all in a format that is quickly becoming the most popular linear subway pattern. This designer palette is a unique blend of tone-on-tone contrast with slight shifts of shaded color creating an excitingly different installation. From backsplash, accent wall, showers and baths, this covers neutral tones, which will subtly accent a more classic design space. For a more bold accent in contemporary or commercial design spaces we also have slightly contrasting, but complementary, color combinations and field tile to coordinate.
